VERY SHORT SESSION

Held by Congress Monday on Account Death of Senator Sewell.

REAL WORK OF LEGISLATION BEGINS.

Statesman Return to the Capital After Their Holiday Vacation — Forecast of Proceedings This Week. Some Measures Introduced.

Washington, Jan. 6.—After a recess of more than two weeks the senate met Monday, but no business was transacted on account of the recent death of Senator William J. Sewell of New Jersey. In his invocation at the opening of the session the chaplain, Rev. Dr. William Milburn, made touching reference to the death of Senator Sewell. He referred also to the disability of Senator Berry of Arkansas, and prayed that he might be able to soon return to his duties in the senate.

Mr. Kean (N. J.) formally announced to the senate the death of Mr. Sewell and offered the customary resolutions expressive of the sorrow of the senate and providing for an immediate adjournment in respect to his memory. As a mark of respect to his memory the senate adjourned at 12:07 p. m. immediately upon the adoption of the resolutions. The seat formerly occupied by Senator Sewell has been assigned to Senator Depew of New York.

Senator Morgan's bill to acquire right of way for the Nicaragua canal is among the measures in position to receive attention of the senate this week. It is not probable, however, that the right of way bill will receive consideration at this time, the disposition being rather to await the action of the house upon the general subject, and then have the senate predicate its action on the house bill. If this course should be decided on the discussion of the canal question in the senate will be postponed for a few weeks. The committee on the Philippines will take up the Philippine tariff question very soon, but there is yet no indication as to how much time the matter may consume in committee. Hence there is no probability that the senate itself will be able to reach that question for some time. Senator Frye is engaged on his report on the shipping bill. A bill will be introduced during the week to provide for a commission to select a site and secure plans for a memorial arch in honor of William McKinley, late president of the United States, to be erected in the District of Columbia.

In the House.

When the house met Monday after the holiday recess there was a large attendance in the galleries, but more than half the seats on the floor were unoccupied. The chaplain in his invocation referred feelingly to the death of the late Senator Sewell.

No business was transacted. Mr. Loudenslager of New Jersey announced the death of Senator Sewell. In doing so he paid a warm, feeling tribute to the "citizen, soldier and statesman," whose death, he said, was "the greatest loss the state of New Jersey ever suffered." He offered the customary resolutions, which were adopted, and as a further mark of respect the house, at 12:10 p. m., adjourned.

Representative Jenkins (Wis.) of the judiciary special committee, which is framing an anti-anarchist bill, introduced a measure which, in addition to providing the death penalty for assaults on the president, requires immigrants to take an oath not to assault those in government authority, and not to publicly uphold the subversion of the government by violent means.

Congressman Cummings (N. Y.) introduced a bill to appropriate $2,000,000 for a new postoffice building in New York city. The bill provides that a commission consisting of the secretary of the treasury, the postmaster general, the postmaster of New York, Morris K. Jessup, president of the New York chamber of commerce, and Oscar L. Straus, president of the New York board of trade and transportation shall select the site.

The principal item on the house program this week is Hepburn's Isthmian canal bill, which is the special order for Tuesday. No limit has been fixed as to the time for debate upon the measure, but Mr. Hepburn does not contemplate a long discussion of it. It is surmised in some quarters, however, that if the proposition of the Panama Canal company to sell its property and franchises for $40,000,000 should be made, as promised, this may have the effect of opening a wider field of discussion than at first seemed probable, and if this should prove to be the case the bill may be before the house for a longer time than is now contemplated.

Maclay's Successor.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Secretary Long has appointed John A. Kearney of Cohoes, N. Y., successor to E. S. Maclay, "historian" and laborer at the New York navy yard, who was removed by order of the president for his strictures upon Rear Admiral Schley. The office is officially designated "special laborer in the department of supplies and accounts, navy yard, New York," with pay at the rate of $2.48 per diem. The appointment reads "vice E. S. Maclay," and omits all reference to the manner of that individual's departure from the service of the government.

WAS WEIGHTED DOWN.

Body of a Murdered Girl Recovered From Chicago River.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—A body, said to be that of Carrie Larson, and which had a weight around its neck, was taken from the river. Louis Thoms, cook of the steamer Peerless, and Robert Keissig, who also worked on the boat, were placed under arrest following the discovery.

The body was identified as that of Carrie Larson, 22, whom Thoms is alleged to have secured from an employment agency New Year's day to assist him in the cook's gallery. According to Keissig's story Thoms and the woman quarreled and the latter was knocked unconscious. Keissig said the cook compelled him to assist in fastening a weight to the woman and throwing her overboard. Thoms denies the accusation.

Killed His Wife's Paramour.

Adrian, Mich., Jan. 6.—James Hooker was shot three times by Bert Farrington of Milan and fatally wounded. Mrs. Farrington, who had not lived with her husband for several months, was visiting at Hooker's home. Farrington came here from Milan, went to the Hooker house. The party secured admission and went immediately to Hooker's bedroom. A match was struck and Farrington opened fire over the sheriff's shoulder as soon as he saw the couple in the room together. He fired five shots before the officers could overpower him. The woman was uninjured. Farrington is in jail.

Deed of Fiends.

Wheeling, Jan. 6.—At Loudonville, a little oil town in the wilds of Marshall county, 30 miles east of this city, a Mrs. Rowland, 30, who recently showed signs of insanity, was spirited to a lonesome place by three young men, who have always borne good reputations, and outraged. Discovery followed and the men escaped. Citizens were terribly excited, and the sheriff and a posse of deputies were hastily summoned from Moundsville to help hunt the guilty men and protect them from the fury of the people when they are caught. Lynching is threatened.

Dowie Case Reopened.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Judge Tuley announced that he would allow the Stevenson-Dowie case to be reopened to admit as evidence certain letters alleged to have been written by Stevenson to his brother, in which the conditions under which the Zion lace industries were established are said to be at variance with Stevenson's testimony during the trial.

Taking a Rest.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 6.—John Thomas, cashier of the Wells Fargo Express company in Cincinnati, who was reported to be missing from that city, is visiting his parents here. Mr. Thomas states that he was in need of a rest, and that, as he was refused leave of absence, he decided to stop work awhile and visit his old home.

Schley at the White House.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Admiral Schley was with President Roosevelt about three-quarters of an hour Monday. The president sent for the admiral to come to the White House. At the conclusion of the conference Admiral Schley refused to discuss the object of his visit.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 6.—Following a quarrel with his family Gust Radke saturated his clothing with kerosene and set fire to himself. Members of the household extinguished the flames, but Radke will die.

MAX TOWED INTO PORT

She Was Badly Damaged in Collision With the Walla Walla.

HAD A STRUGGLE TO KEEP AFLOAT.

Captain Says Watch on the Steamer Was Intoxicated But the Charge Is Emphatically Denied—French Bark With a Mutinous Crew.

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—The French bark Max, Captain Benoist, which was in collision with and sank the steamer Walla Walla, causing the loss of about 40 lives, and which was towed to this port, was badly damaged in the accident. Her jib-boom, made of hollow steel, was broken and twisted, and the tip of it trailed in the water on the port side of the vessel. Her stern was twisted, and great gaping holes were torn in her bow. There was one almost at the water line and another a few feet above. Only her watertight compartments kept her from sinking.

The French vessel left Glasgow 120 days ago bound for this port. She was in ballast and consigned to Frederick Henry. Her captain had little to say regarding the disaster, except that his vessel was closely following the rules of the road when the steamer came under the bows of his bark. He declared that the lights of the Max were properly burning and displayed, and that the men of his crew saw the steamer a long time before the collision. He said: "We could think of no reason why the men on the steamer did not see us, and as the vessels approached we became anxious. Then it was too late. The steamer had tried to cross our bows but had failed. Just before the crash came the steamer swung slightly to port, as though an effort were being made to pass to our stern, but the change in her course had been too late. The bark struck the steamer almost amidship on the port side. For a moment they hung together and then drifted apart. Our vessel was so badly damaged we thought she would sink, and under the circumstances we had all we could do to take care of ourselves. By daylight we had beaten well out toward the sea and were safe from the breakers, but our vessel was to a great measure unmanageable. Saturday morning we accepted a tow from the steam schooner Acme, which later was aided by the cutter McCulloch."

The captain added that he thought the lookout on the Walla Walla was intoxicated, but this charge is emphatically denied by Captain Hall of that vessel, who says there were three men on watch at the time.

Second Officer Le Chevalier of the Max told substantially the same story as the captain.

Crew Mutinied.

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 6.—With their captain dead, two men in prison for rebellious conduct, and a crew bordering on mutiny, the subordinate officers of the French bark Conetable de Richemont, discharging coal at Howard's dock, appealed to the French consulate, the commander of the French cruiser Protet lying in San Francisco harbor, and the Oakland police for protection.

Mate Thioutin, who is in temporary charge of the vessel, is maintaining his authority with a loaded pistol. The trouble on board the bark began during her 157 days' voyage from Swanssea to San Francisco, 30 days of which were occupied in beating around the Horn. The delay enraged the crew, one of whom knocked the chief mate down. Another flatly refused to obey orders. Captain Thoreau died last Friday, and since that time the mates have been unable to control the men. Two of the mutinous sailors were arrested, and if the local courts can not deal with them they will be turned over to officers of the cruised Protet.

Steamers Collide and Go Down.

Lisbon, Jan. 6.—The British steamer Alfonso, from Newport Dec. 15 for Gibraltar, and the Spanish steamer Vilela, both loaded with coal, collided during the night of Jan. 4, off Avoiro, Portugal. Both vessels sank; 18 men of the Alfonso and one man belonging to the Vilela were drowned, and 24 members of the Vilela and the captain of the Alfonso were picked up and landed at Matto Linhos.

Short Cut Freight Line.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 6.—Official information has been received here that the Vanderbilt interests issued a secret circular, the substance of which is to the effect that a new low-grade freight line will be built from Ashtabula to Newcastle, Pa. The money is already provided for this improvement and will probably be in hand by the middle of February. The object of the new line is to do away with the inconvenience of handling low freight, like ore and coal, through Youngstown yards.

OHIO LEGISLATURE.

Biennial Session Begun by Electing Officers—Governor's Message.

Columbus, O., Jan. 6.—There were usual scenes of activity about the state house, and especially in the governor's office prior to the convening of the legislature Monday for the biennial session. The first day was devoted to the election of officers and the reading of Governor Nash's message. The states chosen by the Republican caucus for the official rosters of the two houses were ratified by formal election with the following result:

Scott of Miami; sergeant-at-arms, Andrew Jackson of Greene; first assistant, Frank Newcomer of Lucas; second assistant, David Yarnell of Clark; third assistant, Colonel Blenkner of Columbus.

Senate—President pro tem., Frank B. Archer of Belmont; chief clerk, F. E. Scobey of Miami; assistant clerk, Malcolm Jennings of Fairfield; journal clerk, L. E. St. John of Ottawa; message clerk, E. Pardee of Summit; sergeant-at-arms, William King of Union; first assistant, J. M. Beckett of Franklin; second assistant, Henry W. Moody of Medina; third assistant, Edward Issleib of Marion; fourth assistant, B. F. Sullivan of Stark; fifth assistant, Frank Watts of Highland.

The Democrats voted for the candidates chosen at their caucus, Representative Clement L. Brumbaugh of Darke for speaker, L. G. Barton of Holmes for clerk, and the several caucus nominees for the minor positions, except that Andrew Jackson, the Republican sergeant-at-arms, was unanimously indorsed for re-election, and Colonel Fred J. Blenkner was also unanimously indorsed for third assistant sergeant-at-arms. J. J. Marcha of Lucas county was chosen for the minority portership, Harry Frederick of Wyandot for the minority page, and Miss Kate Moon of Franklin stenographer. The Democrats in the senate voted for Senator W. F. Roudebush for president pro tem., Mary P. Nice of Columbus was chosen for the minority's stenographer, and Clyde Carter of the Thirty-second district for the minority's page.

In joint caucus the Democratic members of the legislature voted as follows in choosing a minority candidate for United States senator in opposition to Senator Foraker: For Charles W. Baker of Cincinnati, 27; John H. Clark of Cleveland, 14; Judge A. W. Patrick of New Philadelphia, 8; P. J. Hartigan of Columbus, 2. Baker's nomination was made unanimous.

Pro-Boer Meeting at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Jan. 6.—An audience of 4,000 people attended a pro-Boer meeting at the armory of the Cleveland Grays, which was addressed by Hon. John J. Lentz and the Rev. August Franz as the principal speakers. Hon. William J. Bryan, who was in the city the guest of Mayor Johnson, appeared at the meeting and spoke in approbation of its sentiments and purposes. Mayor Johnson also spoke briefly. Resolutions were adopted urging the president to take cognizance of the war, and especially on account of the concentration camps maintained by the British, the plan pursued by General Weyler in Cuba, which was denounced by President McKinley.

Pleading Guilty.

Louisville, Jan. 6.—In the federal court Robert Lock, H. H. Mullen and J. J. O'Neill pleaded guilty to interfering with citizens in their rights of suffrage at an election held in this city four years ago. They were sentenced to three months in jail, and O'Neill was fined $2,500, while Lock and Mullen were fined $2,000. They will also be compelled to pay half the costs of the trial. They were tried four times, the first and third trials resulting in hung juries. In the second trial they were sentenced to three years in the Nashville penitentiary, but the conviction was set aside by the federal court of appeals in Cincinnati.

Bryan at Wooster Banquet.

Wooster, O., Jan. 6.—William J. Bryan spoke at the annual Jackson banquet here Monday night, the date being changed to insure his presence on account of his engagement to address the Jackson banquet at New Haven, Conn., Wednesday. Mr. Bryan, in an interview, says he is not a candidate for anything, and that it is too soon to forecast the next national Democratic platform, but expressed his belief that the platform will be along the lines of the platforms of 1896 and 1900, including the money plank.

CRUDE RUBBER CRIMP

Charles R. Flint Discusses Details Concerning the Collapse.

SAYS CREDITORS ARE FULLY SECURED

Five Bankers Hold a Million of the Concern's Liabilities—Plans Made For Liquidating Obligations. Result of a Falling Market.

New York, Jan. 6.—In an interview explaining the condition of the Crude Rubber company, which passed into the hands of a receiver Jan. 4, Charles R. Flint, one of the men most interested in the company, said the company owes $1,000,000 to five bankers. He declined to give the names of the bankers, however, saying they were not worrying about the incident and that it was not a matter of great public interest. He continued: "The public can only be interested in the debts which affect creditors widely distributed, or the banks with which they do business. This does not affect either. The 20 banks who loaned the $2,000,000 owing on crude rubber are fully secured. They will get their money from the sale of rubber. The other $2,000,000 is a contingent liability which arises from the company's indorsement of notes given to it by customers for value received. Of this $800,000 is on the notes of George Watkinson & Co. of Philadelphia, who have failed. The other $1,200,000 is upon notes of absolutely solvent companies, and every dollar of these will be paid upon maturity. Mr. Watkinson informs us that his firm has assets exceeding its liabilities by $400,000. As the firm's assets consist largely of accounts due from 10,000 retailers, it is fair to assume that there may be a material shrinkage in their value, but at the worst they will probably have but a small deficiency. This the Crude Rubber company will be able to pay out of its equities in rubber. The sale of the stocks of the Crude Rubber company was made after a consultation with all of the principal creditors and was made in their interest. There was $1,000,000 worth of crude rubber sold to the United States Rubber company at a concession in price. This is to be paid for in cash at 60 days, and the money will go to the banks which have made advances.

"The other $1,000,000 worth of rubber on hand or in transit has been turned over to the International Crude Rubber company to be sold on a commission of 1 per cent. All the proceeds, less the commission, will be turned over to the receivers to pay the debts of the company. The creditors are fully secured."

Mr. Flint says the failure was the result of a failing market.

The order of Judge Lacomb appointing William W. Ladd, Jr., temporary receiver of the Crude Rubber company, under bond of $50,000, was filed Monday in the office of the United States circuit court.

Gaynor, William T. Gaynor and Edward H. Gaynor. Greene and the Gaynors were charged with being in complicity with Captain O. M. Carter, now serving a term in the United States prison at Leavenworth, Kan., on the charge of defrauding the government of a large sum of money while superintending public works at Sunset.

The afterglow of sunset is charmingly set forth in the following stanza, written by Miss Genevieve E. Munson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. Munson:

Where amethystine hazy clouds
In sunset's afterglow,
Are side by side with rose-tipped banks
Of mist-like drifted snow.
There gleams the blue of Heaven,
The pearl-gray evening mist,
The golden glow, the clouds of snow,
All rose and amethyst.

LEXINGTON "SOCIETY."

An Innovation Adopted at a Swell German in That City Recently.

LEXINGTON, Ky., January 5.—Lexington society has been stirred by a number of young men taking advantage of a figure at a "Dolly Varden" german given by several prominent women. The costumes were of the "Dolly Varden" type, and a number of figures were arranged in a manner to suggest the opera. In one of them the idea embodied in the words of the song, "I love her little ankles and her feet," was carried out during the cotillion. A long screen was held across the ball room and the young women stood in a row behind it. The men were to choose their partners by the ankles and feet, which were alone exposed, and kneel in front of the respective young women until the screen was raised. The temptation was too much for a number of the men, and they did not hesitate to grab at dainty ankles, much to the consternation of the owners behind the screen. There was much feminine screaming and tittering and the screen was hastily raised.

MOTTO FOR THE NEW YEAR.

[Exchange.]

I asked the New Year for some motto sweet,
Some rule of life by which to guide my feet;
I asked and paused,—reply came soft and low:
"God's will to know!"

"Will knowledge then suffice, New Year?" I cried.
But ere the question into silence died
The answer came: "Nay; this remember too,
God's will to do!"

Once more I cried, "Is there still more to tell?"
And once again the answer sweetly fell:
"Yes this one thing, all other things above,
God's will to love."
